

Government in Divergent

To begin, Divergent is like 2017 because the government is creating rules and acting with force because of their fears. The government in Divergent is like really strict and they have a lot of rules like here in America. But in Divergent, the protagonist, Tris, is trying to escape from the facility that they had her locked up in. They scared of her because she different . Just like in real life, Trump is trying to escape from his so called, "Fears" because he is afraid of Latinos because they are different like building a wall on the border of Mexico and trying to kick all Mexicans out of America so he can say his famous phrase, "Make America Great Again".
