On Japan's school lunch menu: A healthy meal, made from scratch: Annotated

This is the link to the article I annotated for my what do I care about. Please note that because of conflicting code on this Washington Post page, you will need to open the link first. Once on the page, you can open Hypothes.is from the bookmarks on your browser to see my annotations and others'. Here's the link to add Hypothes.is to Chrome.

Feel free to contribute to my annotations and comment what your reactions are to the article.
