

Sexism In Media

A issue I care about is sexism, specifically in media because I feel that people today are influenced by what they see in tv and social media with all the trends happening. The entertainment today show off women in a sexual manner especially in advertisements where they show off these images of women with the ideal body. Ads like Victoria's Secret and I learned that constant images of these make women feel like they need to reach that goal and it leaves them self conscious. Also learned that the media Industry is very male dominated still.
