

My Immigration

My name is Muiyar Khant Naing. I'm from Myanmar (Burma). Now I live in New York. My family won the lottery. We immigrated to New York last year. It takes 24 hours to reach New York with a plane from my country. I'm in 10th grade. I'm studying at the International High School for Health Sciences. I have to learn six subjects in my school- Math, English, Science, History, Art, CTE, Reading and Gym. We have also advisory time.

I like to read books at school when I'm free. When I'm reading a book, I forget about problems. At home I usually watch movies when I'm free. My favourite subject at school is Math. Probably it may be difficult for some students but for me it's not that much difficult. Sometimes it is confusing but solving math problems make me relax.

Our family came to New York because there is a better future for all of us. And there is a better economic system. I want to be a doctor in my future. It will change my life really if my dream comes true. First, I have a language problem. It is really difficult to communicate with people who speak English so fast because I'm the beginner. But speaking with people makes me more confident. There are positives and negatives because when we came to New York everything is good but there is no family time in American life. Everyone goes to work and school and then goes to sleep. This is the reason I am disappointed with New York. Anyway New York is one of my favourite places and I hope it will help me in many ways.

And there is justice in New York for everyone even if you are an employee or not. We get more opportunities in education or in economy. In some countries including my country, sometimes there is no justice for employees or the poor man. For example when the economy is down, the owner gives a small amount of salary. Our country is an agriculture country but there are so many farmers that there are no jobs. The president took their farms but they still have to work for them. This is the injustice from my country.
