

Education for all

So far, the theme in La Encrucijada reminds me of about the child's in the EU have right legal take education independently of your immigration state. The theme reminds me of this because the kids have the right to study the races do not import in the school, everyone can have education. In the story Im reading about Jaime have education and in his school do not import the races.