

Places I Love-Pomander Walk

One important place I like in my neighborhood is Pomander Walk. It is a beautiful group of houses in a courtyard in the upper west side. I find it relaxing to just sit in the courtyard or to run around there with my dog. I like the gardens planted there in the spring and summer and how it looks when snow falls in the winter.