

Resources

I think it is so important to resort to any and all sources that are at your disposal in order to get a better understanding of who your student is. Aside from being able to use the information for a Descriptive Review, it also gives potential entry/connection points that can be brought into the classroom.